Qualitative

14 What were the instructor's strengths?

- A: Dr. Cooksy's strength is his organization of the course. It's nice to know what to expect. The routine exams force you to keep up with the material.
- A: Everything, from the way he conducted the classroom, to the way he presented the material. Excellent teacher. Material is extremely rough. You need a professor like Cooksy to teach this course.
- A: Literally everything
- A: class was well organized. the teacher had a deep and profound mastery of the subject he was teaching.
- A: Knowledgeable
- A: Organization, clarity, and knowledge of an incredibly difficult subject.
- A: All around a great professor, fluent with the material, and explanations of each topic at hand.
- A: Mastery of the subject, kind, speaks clearly.
- A: Helpful with answering questions, always available
- A: Dr. Cooksy is very attentive and cares a lot about students. He's very open to questions and will help you whenever he can.
- A: Very helpful in office hours. Fast responsive.

- A: He is absolutely brilliant and the best teacher I've ever had.
- A: Very knowledgeable and passionate about the subject making it easier to understand complex topics.
- A: He has been one of my favorite professors because he transmits his knowledge, and also he always there if you need help. It is a hard class overall, but he has the dedication to help those who ask.
- A: Math

15 In what ways might the instructor improve this course?

- A: Course is good
- A: dont do so much math.
- A: less exams.
- A: It is impossible to improve this course.
- A: Go through and give more sample problems.
- A: No changes needed.
- A: Exams that could relate to homework.
- A: More lenient grading curve
- A: Possibly just be more clear about what section/subsection of the chapter we are talking about, so that it is easier to follow along with the book, knowing what we went over and what we skipped (from the textbook). Also, exams tend to be very difficult and I had a hard time knowing what and how to study, so maybe help guide students more on what to study.
- A: clearer expectations
- A: The exam time for all the exam to be the whole class period.
- A: The tests helped with the learning of the subject material, yet they were not perfect representations of the lectures. Perhaps consider making the tests a little more reflective of lecture.
